

Separate Access Capital Compliance Information

Access Capital operates exclusively as a commercial equipment financing broker, not a direct lender. We partner with a trusted network of third-party lending institutions to provide customized business financing solutions for small and mid-sized companies across the nation. All financing terms, amounts, and conditions are determined solely by the third-party lender. These terms may vary significantly based on the applicant's credit profile and the lender's specific credit criteria, review process, and approval terms.

Access Capital does not provide personal loans, consumer credit, or residential mortgage products. All financing offered is strictly for business purposes.

Financing products and specific programs may not be available in every state, and additional state-specific restrictions may apply. By submitting your business information, you consent to it being shared with one or more of our funding partners to facilitate a match with appropriate financing options. Please review the Access Capital Privacy Policy for full details on data usage. All financing is subject to the specific lender's independent review, verification, and final approval.
